Papua New Guinea

Located only 200 kilometres north of Australia, this Melanesian nation shares the island of New Guinea with Papua, Indonesia's easternmost province. The island is blessed with a wealth of natural treasures including dense rainforests, idyllic islands, rich highlands, and volcanic sites. Visitors can look forward to diving along pristine coral reefs and World War II wrecks, observing the traditional culture of the local tribesmen in the Highlands, or exploring remote villages along the spectacular 1200-kilometre Sepik River. Aside from the dizzying array of diverse ethnic groups, one of the prime attractions is the island's unique ecosystem which is home to some unusual wildlife such as tree-climbing kangaroos and the much celebrated birds of paradise. Still steeped in mysticism, Papua New Guinea remains one of the most remote and intriguing destinations in the world. It makes an ideal destination for intrepid travellers seeking a wild adventure into one of the world's final frontiers.

Day 1: Mount Hagen, Papua New Guinea (Mon, 9 September)

Day Itinerary

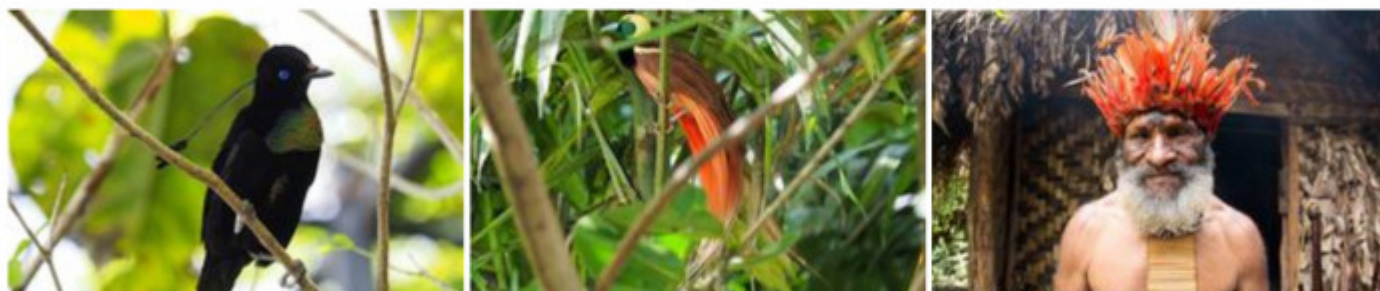

After arriving at Mt Hagen airport, we travel to Paiya village to meet the chief and his wives, learn about their customs, see a fire making demonstration, and listen to the traditional bamboo flute

Activities

We drive 30 minutes from the airport to Magic Mountain Lodge. Village visit

Overnight: Mount Hagen

Mount Hagen is a city in the Western Highlands Province of Papua New Guinea overlooking the spectacularly scenic Waghi Valley. The area is home to the Melpa people who, in the face of ever encroaching modernity, continue to live largely traditional subsistence lifestyles. The town's population is around 60,000. There are numerous excellent spots for bird watching, and half-a-dozen different species can be found in a day with the help of a good guide, more over a longer periods if one is patient.

Day Itinerary

Today we transfer to the Asaro Valley by small coach. We will drive over the Daulo Pass, giving us splendid views of the valley leading to Goroka town in the distance. Once settled in we will go for a tour of the village and a dip in the river.

Half-an-hour west of the Goroka lies the Asaro Valley and its fascinating Asaro Mudmen, one of the iconic cultural groups of the country. The Asaro are happy to explain their story, through eerie representations of battle, cannibalism, and communion with their gods. The valley also has some stunning walks and viewpoints, birds of paradise and many orchid species, as well as the refreshing Asaro River.

Accommodation for one night is in a lodge built by the Asaro in their village. The Asaro village guest house has twin and double rooms, 24-hour electricity, male and female "long drop" toilets, and hot rainwater showers.

Day Itinerary

Day trip to Mount Akemeku to see the coffee plantation and hike along the Akemeku River to learn how the people use the land and forests around them to live. We visit to the secret cave and sacrifice site at Mt Guropoka too.

At the end of the day we leave the Asaro and relocate to our guest house in Goroka town. The guesthouse was built in 2016, has air-conditioned rooms (not at all needed at night, and rarely during the day), and en-suite bathrooms.

Overnight: Goroka

Goroka is the capital of the Eastern Highlands Province. A town of approximately 19,000 people, 1600m above sea level. It is on the "Highlands Highway", about four hours from Mt. Hagen. It has a mild climate, known as a "perpetual Spring". The mountains and valleys around are fertile and produce some of the finest coffee beans in the world. Every September the town hosts the amazing and unique Highlands Cultural Festival, when up to 150 different tribal groups gather for the weekend closest to independence day, the 16th of September. Around 350 foreign visitors are privileged to be able to attend, vastly outnumbered by tens of thousands of locals from the surrounding areas.
