SORRENTO

SELF EXPLORATION OF CAPRI (FERRY TICKETS INCLUDED)

DATE

Thursday, August 17th 2023

DURATION

MEETING

Spend the day enjoying the sunshine and clear blue waters of Capri Island. Known locally as the "Pearl of the Mediterranean," the ancient Greeks called it the "Isle of Sirens." Capri sits on the south side of the Gulf of Naples and has been a popular vacation destination for millennia. The ancient Romans, in fact, built summer villas here for the Empire's VIPs.

In the morning, you'll head out independently to catch a hydrofoil to Capri. Self-explore the Marina Grande and Marina Piccola harbors, walk along the Belvedere of Tragara (a villa-lined promenade with panoramic views), and explore the ruins of ancient Roman villas.

Then head up the hill to Anacapri to see the Piazzetta and Augustus' Garden, and enjoy the best views of the Faraglioni Rocks. Should you choose, you can later return to the water and explore the Grotta Azzurra, the famous "Blue Grotto," which is located inside a hollowed sea cave. Afterward, we recommend spending the remainder of the afternoon soaking in the sunshine on the beach, before taking the ferry back in the evening.

NAPLES

FULL DAY TOUR OF POMPEII AND VESUVIUS

DATE

Friday, August 18th 2023

DURATION

MEETING

After breakfast, meet your private English-speaking driver at your hotel and spend the day exploring two of the area's most notable attractions, Pompeii and nearby Mount Vesuvius, on a full-day tour.

Start with a tour of the ruins of Pompeii, a bustling seaside city which was buried underneath 13-20 ft (4 to 6 m) of ash and volcanic debris after the 79 CE eruption of Mount Vesuvius. The ash, which killed many of the city's residents, acted as an archaeological time capsule by preserving many of the city's original buildings and features completely intact. (Private English-speaking guide service for a 2-hour walking guided tour and Pompeii Archaeological Site entrance fees included).

The walking tour of Pompeii's ancient streets will show off an astonishing number of preserved villas, shops, public buildings, and plazas. Afterward, stop in a local workshop to see the production process for various regional handicrafts, such as cameos and coral jewelry.

After lunch (to be paid on spot in a local restaurant), visit Mount Vesuvius, designated as a UNESCO Biosphere World Reserve. The hiking trails at the top offer unique views inside the crater, as well as panoramic views of the surrounding landscapes and the Tyrrhenian Sea. On the way back, you might stop in a local winery where you will have a special wine-tasting session (to be paid on the spot).

This is a great opportunity to explore the countryside and wines of a very little-known region. The vines were originally planted by the Greeks, who introduced the 'Greco di Tufo' wine, made from the Greco grape, which is now grown throughout the region.
