In the countryside of Monopoli, on gentle hills, typical of the area, the Trulli Villa enjoy a panoramic view of the rest of the countryside.

The trulli, recently renovated, maintain the typical character of the tradition, providing at the same time all the comforts, and fit perfectly in a setting made of olive trees, cherry and almond trees.

Reaching the structure, through a driveway you reach directly to the relaxation area consisting of a large solarium facing the pool with hydromassage area. From here you can reach the patio that connects the different parts of the complex: the wooden pergola with outdoor kitchen and dining area, the barbecue area, the main house and the dependance. The main house combines the ancient structure with recently built lamie trulli, perfectly integrated.

Coming to the living area, you are greeted by a warm and luminous space, with the peculiarities of the Apulian tradition, such as the typical cone-shaped vaults and the use of the stone that we also find in the kitchen, created in a barrel vaulted space. , characterized by a splendid view of the countryside.

Moving from the living area, you can reach the three bedrooms of the main house. The first collection and welcoming, is enclosed in a cone with exposed stone covering. The second, with a barrel vault and several niches, is accessible through a small hallway that connects the various rooms to the main bathroom of the structure. The third bedroom, semi-independent, enjoys a private access and the presence of a large bathroom with shower.

Finally, to enjoy further privacy while remaining connected to the main structure, you can stay in the spacious and bright dependance. Reachable through a small stone staircase, the structure is totally plastered, with stone floor. En suite bathroom with shower.
