

About Us

Ollami is an innovative online global platform, offering nature, culture, and adventure tours to destinations all over the world.

With Ollami's technology, agents and travelers connect directly with the best local suppliers, who provide excellent tailor-made experiences, while enjoying high exposure and maximizing their sales.

Our Challenge

Even in today's advanced travel market, the nature and adventure sector faces its unique challenges, mostly the limited knowledge among travel agencies when it comes to tailored tours on a global scale. This arises a need for a global marketplace of local professionals.

Our Platform

Ollami steps into an antiquated segment and turns traditional B2B (and B2C, slightly) flow into one up-to-date online platform.

Using Ollami's search engine, agents and travelers easily explore thousands of trips in diverse travel destinations and contact directly the best local suppliers, to create their desired trip.

Ollami's interface offers an end-to-end treatment, providing the platform for communication from the initial connection, through further messaging and itinerary matching, all the way to billing and payment.

Our Advantages

Through Ollami, our suppliers enjoy:

- Joining an international travel community, consisted of over 750 selected travel experts in 101 countries.
- High exposure via Ollami's partners and marketing.
- High conversion rate.
- Direct contact with agents, enabling easy product matching.
- Fast and reliable communication.

Our Activities

Our experience has proven our B2B focus to be the most efficient, through successful cooperation with travel agent chains in Australia and New Zealand. Currently, most bookings take place in Europe, Africa, and the Middle East.

Collaborating with travel experts from all over the world on the one hand, and excellent travel agent chains, on the other, allows Ollami to create a growing and dynamic global travel network, benefitting all stakeholders.

Our Story

With 25 years of experience in nature and adventure travel, including leading successful travel companies and creating innovative travel products, Ollami's founder and CEO, Eran Borochoy, established Ollami in 2018.

Ollami team, comprised of experienced travel professionals and tech - developers, understood the essential need in the travel market and created a wide network of global travel contacts while developing and utilizing an innovative and easy-to-use system.
