Day 2: Monday 16th March 2019: Beijing City Tour

At 10am this morning, you have a Private Guide to orientate and acquaint you with some of the most important sights of the city.

Service: Private Guide walking (& Public transport) Tour –Tian'anmen, ForbiddenCity, Temple Heaven

With the help of your own private professional guide, you will tour some of must-visit historical sites and attractions.

In this 8 hour experience, your guide will meet you at your hotel lobby, then together you will make your way to Tiananmen Square, the Forbidden City and the Temple of Heaven, finishing off at a popular market, where your guide can either leave you to shop, or help you catch a cab back to your hotel.

The tour starts with your guide meeting you in the lobby of your central Beijing hotel, then you will where you meet your local guide.

Your walk takes you to Tiananmen Square, often considered the political and cultural heart of the People's Republic of China.

Walk through the lively area, learning about the importance of the square to the country. Listen as your guide gives you insight into the 1989 Tiananmen Square protests before heading to your next stop.

Built in the 1400s, the Forbidden City covers 180 acres (72 ha) and is an example of traditional Chinese palatial architecture. Follow the group through the intricate complexes of the city that has housed Chinese Emperors from the Ming to the end of the Qing dynasties.

Continue to the majestic Temple of Heaven – a temple complex designed for the emperor to pray as well as hold religious ceremonies. You are sure to have your camera out snapping photographs of the religious, medieval architectural style.

Travel to your final stop, the Hongqiao Market, (very close to the Temple of Heaven).

Known as The Pearl Market, this is one of the three big shopping markets in Beijing.

From here, your guide can either leave you to shop, or help you catch a cab back to your hotel.

Day 3: Tuesday 17^h March 2020: Beijing - The Mutianyu Great Wall!

After your 7am hotel pick-up from select Beijing's hotel within 2nd ring road of Beijing, your tour begins with the 80-minute drive to the Great Wall at Mutianyu.

When you arrive, embark on the 3.9-mile (7 km) round-trip hike along the wall, which takes about three hours, providing plenty of time to admire the views of the wall running across the tree-covered terrain.

Take in the dense woods and pastures, and walk past the watchtowers where guards once stood on this barrier that defended the Chinese capital and imperial tombs. When you're done hiking in the afternoon, refuel with provided lunch before the drive back to Beijing to end your tour with hotel drop-off in the city centre.
